RUSSIAN WAR
THREAT SEEN
BY CHURCHILLSEEDS OF CONFLICT BEING SOWN BY SOVIETS

BY ROMNEY WHEELER

London, June 5 (AP)—Winston Churchill charged bluntly today that "the seeds of a new world war are being sown" in Soviet-influenced areas of Eastern Europe, and Prime Minister Attlee declared Russia was ignoring "the spirit" of the Potsdam agreement.

Attlee, however, said the British should not "judge the present state of the world wholly pessimistically," and cautioned against "the counsel of despair that would divide Europe into two separate camps."

Churchill warned that "it cannot be in the interest of Russia to go on irritating the United States."

He said he marvelled that in the single year since the war's end, the Soviet government could "do themselves so much harm and chill so many friendships in the English-speaking world."

Behind The Curtain

The Conservative leader asserted that "not only has a curtain descended from the Baltic to the Adriatic, but behind it is a broad band of territory containing nearly one third of the population of Europe, apart from Russia."

"It is here," said Churchill, "that the seeds of a new world war are being sown. Behind that curtain efforts are being made to Sovietize all the Soviet-occupied zone of Germany. We have to face the fact that two Germanies are coming into being."

Both Churchill and Attlee expressed a confidence of the "big four" were unable to agree on European peace treaties.

Attlee, replying to Churchill in the second day of debate on foreign policy, said the misunderstanding between Russia and the western powers "is really the iron curtain—it is a curtain between minds."

He said Russia insisted on a literal and rigid interpretation of the Potsdam agreement, denying all flexibility to meet changing situations. He added that "I think that they disregard the spirit in which we entered into these things at Potsdam."

American Eagle Prodded

One of Britain's greatest difficulties, Attlee said, was "to try to get into the minds of our Russian friends some real understanding of the way we work things in western democracies."

"We have to look upon the Russian people, to some extent, as if they had been born in a dark forest; they do not seem to understand the sunlight, the wind and the air of free democracies," Attlee said.

"It cannot be in the interests of Russia to go on irritating the United States. There is no people in the world which is slower in developing hostile feelings against a foreign country than the Americans."

"The American eagle sits on his perch, a strong bird with formidable beak and claws. There he sits, motionless, and Mr. Gromyko (Andrei Gromyko, Russian member of the Security Council) is sent every day to prod him with a sharp stick, now on his beak, now under his wing, now in his tan feathers."

"All the time, the eagle continues quite still," Churchill continued amid laughter. "But it would be a mistake to suppose nothing is

Senate Bill
Rips Gap In OPA Powers

Washington, June 5 (AP)—A bill ripping great gaps in OPA's powers was approved by the senate banking committee tonight in defiance of Chester Bowles' warning that he would urge President Truman to veto it as a "monstrous thing."

Under the measure, price control would be extended until June 30, 1947, but with amendments lifting controls from meat and dairy products, preventing OPA from interfering with normal markups of thousands of merchants, and making other sweeping changes in the stabilization program.

The committee did, however, delete the Wolcott amendment of the house, which provided that all producers, processors and distributors must be allowed cost plus "a reasonable profit."

The committee stuck to amendments previously adopted and even plastered on some new ones despite Stabilization Director Bowles' radio address last night declaring the measure constituted a "fraud" which would send the cost of living skyrocketing.

Public To Pay

As one of its final decisions, the committee adopted a provision contained in the OPA bill which the house has passed prohibiting the price agency from interfering with normal discounts or markups of retailers and wholesalers on "reconversion items" such as automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines, and radios.

The OPA has estimated that this amendment will raise the price to consumers approximately $300,000,000 a year, with the boost on $100,000 cars, for instance, running about $35. The estimates, however, have been contested by senators favoring the amendments.

Other important provisions of the bill as finally agreed upon by the committee include:

1. Ceilings could not be maintained on a farm product unless the secretary of agriculture certifies it is in short supply.

2. Controls would have to be removed by Dec. 31, 1946, on all items not important to living costs or business costs.
3. OPA's request for approximately $2,000,000,000 in subsidies for the next fiscal year would be cut to $1,100,000,000, with no food subsidies to be paid after next May 1.

4. A decontrol board would be established to decide appeals by industry committees when the price administrator or secretary of agriculture, as the case might be, denied a petition by an industry advisory committee for removal of controls on a particular item.

5. OPA's MAF (maximum average price) order would be abolished. It is designed to require manufacturers to produce a normal volume of low-priced clothing.
6. Items not under price control May 1, 1946, could not be brought under controls.

7. The subsidy fund could not be used to start any new subsidies.

The OPA suffered another blow today when the senate banking committee insisted, 11 to 7, that price controls be lifted from livestock, meat, poultry, eggs and dairy products at the end of this month.

Chairman Wagner (D-N. Y.) sought reconsideration of the action the committee took on Tuesday but the committee reaffirmed it by an even stronger vote. The original tally when the committee first balloted was 10 to 8 for removing meat controls and 9 to 8 for taking ceilings off dairy products.

Advances Resisted,
Youth Of 18 Kills
60-Year-Old Woman

Kansas City, June 5 (AP)—Because she refused him intimate advances and told him he should get such schoolboy ideas out of his head, Elmer Handy, 18, told police today that he choked to death 60-year-old Mrs. Maude Nance and then criminally attacked her.

Police Lt. Charles Welch said the youth, who was charged with first degree murder, made a signed statement in which he said: "She told me she was more than 40 years older than I was and that I should get such schoolboy ideas out of my head."

"I decided to use force. I choked her with my hands and then went to the kitchen to get a butcher knife. I noticed she was unconscious and I attacked her then. x x x she felt cold and when I realized she was dead I decided to give myself up."

Monarchy Discarded
In Italy; Umberto II
Will Leave Country

BY GEORGE BRIA

Rome, June 5 (AP)—Italy's Royal House of Savoy fell tonight under the weight of more than 12,000,000 votes cast against it in the weekend plebiscite, and the nation chose to be a republic.

The ministry of the interior announced that with only a few ballots still to be counted, voters in favor of a republic led by 1,820,146. They swept the industrial and densely populated north and one section of central Italy, defeating more than 10,300 supporters of the monarchy.

Vice Premier Pietro Nenni said King Umberto II, 47, who reigned less than a month, would leave Italy on Saturday after the official verdict was announced by the supreme court, and probably would join his father Vittorio Emanuele III, who abdicated May 9 and went into voluntary exile in Egypt.

Tall, blonde Queen Marie Jose, sister of Belgium's King Leopold, already has left the capital. She arrived in Naples tonight by plane with her four children, and went to the Villa Marie Pia in the suburbs, where her father-in-law spent the last days before his abdication.

The interior ministry said the Republicans polled 12,182,855 votes, against 10,362,709 for the monarchy. All southern Italy and the islands of Sicily and Sardinia, where the kingdom was born, favored the retention of the monarchy. But the votes of the more populous north sealed the fate of the royal house which united Italy in 1870.

Umberto had campaigned actively for his throne. He had promised the voters another plebiscite later if they left him his crown. His father, who had abdicated to strengthen the crown prince's chances, was tainted in the public eye, with the stigma of Fascism.

INFANT DEATHS
ON SHIP TRACEDUnclean War Brides Are Blamed For Spread Of Fatal Baby Disease

Washington, June 5 (AP)—A special board of inquiry reported today that unclean habits of mothers contributed to the spread of an intestinal disease which killed eight babies on the army "Bride Ship" Zebulon B. Vance.

The board reported:

1. The ship and its hospital area were "scrupulously clean."

2. There was no neglect of the medical staff which contributed to spread of the disease. "nor were any members of the medical staff intoxicated."

3. There was testimony from doctors and nurses that the mothers in general were persons, all unclean, that some slept in their clothes, permitted babies to suck on dirty pacifiers, used non-sterile nursing bottles, fed the infants irregularly and were careless with soiled diapers.

The report, made public by the war department, said the cause of the disease has now been definitely established. It said observation indicated a resemblance to epidemic infantile diarrhea, summer diarrhea or cholera infantum.

The disease probably was transmitted by direct contact, the report said, "which was undoubtedly contributed to by the laxity of the sanitary habits of the mothers."

Of the soldier wives being brought here from Europe, the passenger list showed 242 from France, 124 from Belgium, two from Poland and one from Holland.

Hormel Packing Co.
Founder Dies At 85

Los Angeles, June 5 (AP)—George A. Hormel, 85, founder of the Hormel Packing Co., Austin, Minn., died today.

Samaritan Hospital following a stroke yesterday at his Bel Air home.

Hormel, son of immigrant parents, built his rich packing house chain from a small country meat market at Austin, Minn., which he purchased with a borrowed down payment of $500 in 1887.

His son, Jay C. Hormel, who took over active management of the company in 1926, was flying here from Minnesota to arrange funeral plans.

The Hormel company claimed to be the first in the country to can hams and later it began canning chickens and other foods.

UMBERTO

U.N. SEAT GOES
TO REPUBLICANVermont Senator Named
Stettinius' Successor
For $20,000 Job

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, June 5 (AP)—Senator Warren R. Austin, life-long Vermont Republican, lawyer and advocate of international peace organization, was named by President Truman today to succeed Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., as American representative on the United Nations security council.

Selection of the 68-year-old senator from the ranks of the President's nominal party opposition gave a bi-partisan tone to Mr. Truman's foreign policy development, for the United Nations post is one of the most important diplomatic jobs in the President's power to fill.

Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, told newsmen the appointment was "further evidence of the President's belief in bi-partisan policies where the foreign relations of the United States are concerned."

The post pays $20,000 a year, and the man who fills it has immediate responsibility for carrying out in the council the development of American foreign policy laid down by the President and Secretary of State Byrnes.

Austin's approval by the senate was considered assured. Presumably his ready acceptance by his colleagues was one of the factors favorable to his selection. Others, it was learned, were the facts that he is a lawyer capable of conducting the intricate public debate for which the security council has grown famous, and that he has been a consistent supporter of an "international" foreign policy.

Shortly after his name reached the senate in the President's formal nomination, Austin announced that he was accepting the appointment.

Governor Warren's
Victory Puts Him In

Gov. Earl Warren's unprecedented renomination victory on both Republican and Democratic tickets in California projected him last night (Wednesday) into the circle of GOP prospects for the 1948 presidential nomination.

Warren's capture of both nominations for another four-year term over Democrat Attorney General Robert Kenny was hailed by his friends as a tribute to his "non-partisan" administration and his personal vote-getting ability.

One of his supporters, Rep. J. Leroy Johnson, of Stockton, told the house in Washington that the double victory made Warren "the No. 1 man" for the presidency two years hence.

All other major races in Tuesday's five-star primaries had been decided last night, except in New Mexico. Incomplete returns from that state indicated that Senator Dennis Chavez had won Democratic renomination there in a torrid battle with Gov. John J. Dempsey.

TRUMAN TRIES TO AVERT CIO
SHIP WALKOUTWORK STOPPAGE ON ALL COASTS BEGUN
BY AFL SEAMEN

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, June 5 (AP)—AFL seamen stole a march on the CIO maritime unions tonight by calling a work stoppage on all coasts tomorrow at 2 p.m. (EST).

The stoppage was described as simultaneous "stop-work meetings" by John Hawk, vice-president of the AFL seafarers international union in New York.

Hawk said he could not reveal the purpose of the meetings. But earlier in San Francisco, Harry Lundeberg, president of the union, issued a statement saying the AFL seamen of the west coast were "ready to take drastic action" to get the Pacific shipowners home from Washington to engage in collective bargaining with the AFL men.

Lundeberg criticized Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach for "detaining the shipowners in Washington"—where negotiations are going on with a group of CIO maritime unions in efforts to avert a scheduled nation-wide CIO maritime strike scheduled June 15.

Washington, June 5 (AP)—President Truman stepped into the maritime dispute tonight telling both sides to "buckle down and settle this matter through collective bargaining."

He emphasized a belief that the nation-wide CIO shipping strike set for June 15 could be averted by such bargaining, and stressed that government steps to keep the ships running are "purely precautionary."

His statement was a followup to his news conference comments last Friday in which he pledged that the government would work the vessels if the strike materializes.

This had stirred a tempest among the CIO maritime unions. They said in a statement that the President had "deliberately fired a torpedo into the negotiations" by "guaranteeing the American ship operators that he will break any maritime strike."

The President's statement today was issued after a meeting with John W. Gibson, assistant secretary of labor, and Granville Conway, administrator of war shipping.

Union Makes Concession

New peace efforts had come from both sides earlier in the day. The government at the same time drafted a priority list for vital cargoes in case of the strike.

The government will not try to keep all U. S. ships running if the strike occurs, a high official told reporters privately. It is taking steps to see that the most essential food and other cargoes move.

With the strike deadline ten days off, one maritime union president said "we're still quite a ways apart" on settlement.

The big CIO National Maritime Union receded anew, however, from its demand for a 40-hour work week, key issue of the whole controversy. It was believed, but not confirmed, that President Joseph Curran had gone up to 44 hours.

Simultaneously, west coast operators offered the Marine Firemen's Union a complete new blanket proposal. The firemen's president, V. J. Malone, said the operators "haven't give up much" but reserved formal reply until tomorrow.

Eastern ship operators, who have not backed down from their stand for the present 56-hour work week, scheduled new negotiations at 9:30 p.m. (EST) tonight.

Treasury Launches
Bond Sales Drive
To Check Inflation

Washington, June 5 (AP)—With the public cashing "E" bonds this year faster than they are bought, the treasury will launch tomorrow a four-week bond selling campaign to soak up inflationary buying power.

The drive will run through July 4 and has no quotas. It will cover all government savings bonds and is described as a stepped-up phase of the treasury's peacetime sales campaign.

Sales of the "E" series—formerly known as war bonds—are lagging $436,930,000 behind redemptions for the first five months of the year although aggregate savings bond purchases are ahead of cash-ins.

A statement by Secretary Vinson said "the best way for the average American to fight inflation is to invest regularly his surplus earnings in U. S. Savings Bonds—and hold them."

Draft Extension
Passed; Teen-Age
Class Restored

Washington, June 5 (AP)—The senate passed a draft extension bill today which would continue the act until May 15, 1947, permit 18 and 19-year olds to be drafted again after this month, and raise the pay of enlisted men.

The vote on final passage was 69 to 8. It came after the senate defeated, 63 to 14, a proposal that actual inductions be halted while the volunteer system got a further trial with the pay of an army private raised from $50 to $75 a month.

The main features of the senate bill, which grants most of the ad-

CHILDREN HURT
ON WAY TO ZOOCollision of Bus and Two Cars Kills Woman;
18 Injured

Detroit, June 5 (AP)—A woman was killed and 18 other persons were injured, including 10 children, in the collision of a school bus and two automobiles at Ten Mile and Greenfield roads today.

Instead of going to the zoo, their destination, the 34 children riding in the bus were taken to Mt. Carmel Mercy hospital where 10 received treatment. Physicians said none were hurt seriously.

The victim was Mrs. Mildred Kirby Oberle, 49, who was in the first automobile to collide with the bus. Her husband, Louis E., a policeman, and a daughter, Esther, 22, were injured seriously. Oberle's condition was reported critical. Mrs. Laura Ackley, 72, Lincoln Park, a grandmother of one of the children, is also in critical condition.

The accident occurred as the bus stopped for an intersection, then started across, then the two vehicles swerved and struck another car. All three hurtled together into a 12-foot ditch.

Mrs. Anise Eldridge, 40-year old teacher riding with the children, told police that after the collision she pulled the children through a door which opened automatically. She said the children showed "remarkable calm."

Magazine Manager
Is Killed By Train

Chicago, June 5 (AP)—Elmore C. Patterson Sr., 79, former vice-president and general manager of Collier's weekly magazine, and widely known amateur sportsman, was killed today when struck by the Burlington railroad's Zephyr train at a suburban Western Springs crossing.

He was with Collier's from 1904 to 1916. In 1916 he was a co-founder of Warner Patterson Co., makers of automobile products.

Patterson with the late Walter Camp helped pick All-American football teams for a number of years.

Patterson, who was born in Rochester, N. Y., was credited with making the first non-stop automobile trip from Chicago to New York.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Martha Myers, of Western Springs, and Mrs. Gertrude Ford, of Minneapolis, and a son, Elmore C. Jr., of New York City. His wife, Harriet, died five weeks ago.

Shortages Worry
Detroit Officials

Detroit, June 5 (AP)—In a telegram in which he termed this city's food problem critical, Mayor Edward J. Jeffries today urged Secretary of Agriculture Clinton B. Anderson and Senator Ferguson to act in lifting meat slaughtering quotas for the Detroit area.

A survey conducted by the city food emergency committee revealed "a critical shortage in many food items, but principally meat, which is now at about the 50 per cent level as compared with supplies for April," the telegram indicated.

"Unless more meat is made available restaurant operators and factory feeding programs are in danger of collapse," Jeffries' telegram read.

RATES REDUCED

Lansing, June 5 (AP)—Consumers Power company electric users will pay $3,000,000 less in rates annually under a new schedule which becomes effective July 1, the state public service commission announced today.

ministration's requests, are subject now to house action. That chamber voted an extension only to Feb. 15 with a ban on teen-age inductions, and approved pay increases in a separate measure.

The senate and house, in seeking to adjust their differences, will work against a July 1 deadline when the temporary draft extension expires.

Senators Revercomb (R-W.Va.), Wilson (R-Iowa) and Wherry (R-Neb.) had proposed the stop on inductions, arguing that congress should await results from the pay increase.

"I don't want to draft American boys to march into Spain," Revercomb said, adding that he does not know what this country's commitments might be. "And I don't want to draft boys to take part in a civil war in China."

Administration leaders contended it would be dangerous to ban inductions and leave future manpower needs to the armed forces to the uncertainty of volunteering.

A senate-house committee will have to compromise differences between the two branches. Three days of senate debate drew the issues.

The chief point of controversy between the two chambers is whether 18 and 19-year olds should be subject to the draft. The house voted no. The senate decided 53 to 26 that they should. Talk already is going around of a possible compromise dropping boys 18 but taking those 19.

TRUCE ASSURED
FOR MANCHURIAGen. Marshall Given Time
To Iron Out Civil Strife In China

BY JOHN RODERICK

Nanking, Thursday, June 6 (AP)—Assurance of a 15-day truce in the Manchurian conflict today gave General Marshall badly-needed time in which to try for a permanent settlement of the long-drawn-out civil strife which has disrupted China.

The Manchurian truce, announced Wednesday after conferences between President Truman's special envoy and leaders of the opposing factions, was to take effect today immediately after its formal signature by Marshall's committee of three.

Three major points remained to be negotiated during the armistice period. As listed by Lu Chung-li, prominent Kuomintang (Government party) leader, they were:

1. Permanent cessation of hostilities.
2. Restoration of communications, disrupted in many places by fighting.

3. Reorganization of the army.

Chen Li-fu, Rightist minister in Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's regime, said it was possible that the government would assign the Communists an area to garrison in Manchuria after hostilities ceased.

Higher Costs Wipe
Out $130,000,000
Sales Tax Revenue

Lansing, June 5 (AP)—The state isn't going to reap the benefits of a sales tax collection which may reach a record of $130,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning next month, Auditor General John D. Morrison asserted today.

Morrison declared the $130,000,000 figure may be reached if there is full employment. However, he pointed out, the tax dollar will reflect the results of inflation.

An increase in sales tax collections means higher living costs as well as more articles bought or sold," he explained.

He said the state also must pay more for the goods and services it seeks and the state is "not going to be so much better off financially as it would seem."

The current sales tax level is about $116,000,000 a year. In 1941 it was $73,632,000.

PANIC FATAL
IN LA SALLE
HOTEL BLAZEEXPERTS CHECK ON CAUSE OF SWIFT TRAGEDY

Chicago, June 5 (AP)—A flash fire killed 58 persons and injured 200 others early today in the loop La Salle hotel, and safety, engineering and architectural experts sought to establish how the blaze started and why the flames spread so fast in the "strictly fireproof" hostelry.

Within a few minutes after flames were first discovered licking out from a dummy elevator door off the main lobby, the first three floors of the 22-story building were engulfed in fire.

Patrons in the floors above opened their doors and windows to investigate the smoke and sound of fire engines. This concerted move, firemen said, created a giant draft from top to bottom of the 37 year old hotel, sucking flames, smoke and gasses up elevator shafts.

Origin Uncertain

Up to midnight, 53 of the dead had been identified. Four bodies still were unidentified and identification was only tentative for Louis Marco, of Chicago.

GOES BACK TO BED

Chicago, June 5 (AP)—The fire in the LaSalle hotel early this morning interrupted the sleep of Lt. Col. Ralph P. Weaver, of Kansas City.

Col. Weaver said he was awakened by a fireman, who apprised him of the blaze. "Is it out?" Weaver asked. The fireman said it was.

Weaver then looked out the door and saw rescue workers carrying several bodies down the hall. "I've seen worse overseas," said Weaver, and thereupon went back to bed.

At 8:10 a. m. this morning, he emerged from the hotel, freshly shaved, and with a full complement of luggage, neatly packed—the last patron out of the building.

The hotel management asserted there was no delay in notifying the fire department and that "every precaution" had been taken to provide for the safety of the public.

Hotel officials said all equipment was "spotlessly clean" and in "perfect condition" to meet an emergency, and asserted investigation would show "panic and heavy smoke caused more deaths and injury than actual fire."

Investigating officials after preliminary studies, were unable to fix the origin of the fire. Some witnesses said it started in the dummy elevator shaft at the north end of the lobby. Others said they believed it started in an adjoining cocktail lounge or in the hotel coffee shop, which was closed.

All witnesses agreed, however, that the blaze quickly raced out of control as hotel employees attacked the flames with hand pumps.

Exits Blocked

Within minutes, the main outside exits and stairway exits from the floors above were blocked by flames.

The fire started at 12:35 a. m. when most of the 1,100 patrons had retired to their rooms. It was extinguished three hours later.

It was the worst hotel blaze in Chicago's history and the most serious hotel tragedy in the nation.

going on in the breast of the eagle. I venture to give this friendly hint to my old wartime comrade, Marshall Stalin.

"We seek nothing from Russia except good will," Churchill said, adding that if Russia were menaced again, Britain would fulfill her obligations and go to the Russians' aid.

Delay Dangerous
Nevertheless, he said, Britain could not agree to indefinite postponement of peace treaties.

"The idea of keeping millions of people hanging about in a sub-human state between heaven and hell will only breed moral pestilence and probably active war," Churchill said.

Churchill and Attlee disagreed on Spain. The opposition leader called Spain "one of the least aggressive nations of Europe" and said he felt that "the Spanish people had better be left to work out their own salvation." But Attlee countered that Britain must take action "best calculated to make the Spanish get rid of their present government and get a decent government in its place."

Pressures Are Piled On President Anent Labor Disputes Bill

Washington, June 5 (AP)—Conflicting pressures piled up today on President Truman as he considered whether to sign or veto the Case labor disputes bill.

For a veto, either avowedly or by strong report, were: Rep. Sabath (D-Ill.), Dean of the house and chairman of its rules committee. He called upon Mr. Truman today to urge a veto, saying the measure "will not eliminate strikes, will not help industry and may create more trouble than anything else." But as for the President's own reaction, Sabath told reporters that "he wouldn't tell me and I wouldn't ask him."

Robert E. Hannegan, postmaster general and chairman of the Democratic national committee, at the Capitol, Hannegan was widely represented as having advised a veto, believing that such a course would retain labor support which otherwise might be lost.

Against a veto are many influential senators and representatives.

Jobless Veterans Paid $39,183,222

Detroit, June 5 (AP)—Unemployed industrial workers drew $110,931,615 in the first four months of this year, the Michigan unemployment compensation commission reported today.

World War II veterans were paid $39,183,222 during the period. A total of 306,836 workers received unemployment compensation under the State industrial program, while 219,637 World War II veterans received readjustment allowances under the GI bill of rights.

Industrial claims filed during the week ending June 1 totaled 17,992, a rise of 2,033 over the preceding week.

Despite the heavy unemployment, the commission said that its unemployment trust fund is in "healthy condition."

tion in more than 13 years. Fire, heat, panic and smoke combined to create the huge death toll. Property damage was correspondingly low, estimated at $100,000 by firemen.

Some patrons, hysterical with fear, jumped to certain death from their windows. Others perished in their beds from smoke and fumes given off by burning varnish and lacquer on the woodwork. Many were found in smoke filled corridors where they dropped, overcome by smoke.

Firemen said the flames first were discovered coming from a wall on the ground level near a bank of elevators, a cocktail lounge and coffee shop.

Hotel employees, they said, turned fire extinguishers on the blaze—an employee of the cocktail lounge squirted water from a seltzer bottle—but the fire grew stronger and the fire department was called.

Mayor Among Victims

Among the victims were Mayor Edward J. Schneidman of Quincy, Ill., and the Rev. A. F. Schmitt-thener of Chambersburg, Pa., only recently returned to the United States after 23 years of missionary service in India.

The first alarm was turned in at 12:35 a. m. Within 10 minutes the first three floors were engulfed in flames. The main street exits were made impassable within minutes as the flames raced through the lobby and burned stairways to the upper floors.

Five extra alarms were sounded and more than 300 firemen brought the blaze under control about 3:30 a. m. Damage was estimated at more than $100,000 by firemen.

Investigations were ordered by Coroner A. L. Brodie, Mayor Edward J. Kelly, State's Attorney William J. Tuohy and the Illinois state Senate.

Brodie's inquiry began immediately upon appointment of a jury of 11 engineering, safety, architectural and hotel management experts. An inquest was set for 10 a. m. Friday, but the jurors expressed informal opinions on why the flames spread so rapidly.

Door Stops Flames

They said the hotel, which has two open stairways at the north side of the lobby, was constructed before the city building code was adopted prohibiting such construction.

The flames, which started near the stairways, raced up the passageways, mushrooming out at each floor. Noxious gases from burning varnishes and lacquers on the woodwork, spread throughout the hotel, they said.

The third floor door on the enclosed stairway at the south end of the hotel was blistered from the heat, but succeeded in holding back the flames.

Paul Gerhardt, Jr., building commissioner, said the blaze may have originated in the hotel's coffee shop which was closed at the time.

Gerhardt later said a number of establishments operating without full approval of the fire and building departments, would be closed immediately.

No Negligence

The prospectus of the hotel described the building as "strictly fireproof" and constructed principally of steel, concrete, Bedford stone, granite, brick, terra cotta, marble and tile.

Mayor Kelly said there was no evidence of negligence. The hotel had been warned by the city last month to take some additional fire precautions but the mayor said none of the points cited in the warning was responsible for the fire.

Flames spread rapidly into the lobby and up other elevator shafts and smoke billowed into every corner of the 838-room hotel.

Hundreds of patrons, roused by the smoke and sounds of the fire engines, opened their windows and doors to investigate.

Firemen said this created a giant draft from top to bottom of the building, sucking the flames and smoke up faster.

Hundreds of spectators lined the streets adjoining the hotel in the heart of the La Salle street financial district.

Many Suffocate

Panic took hold swiftly. The patrons, most of them in night clothing, started for the hallways, but many were driven back by the dense smoke.

Some collapsed and suffocated. One man formed a chain of seven screaming women and led them to a fire escape by match light.

Luggage and other belongings tossed into the street piled up into a sodden mass of water-soaked garments and broken luggage below.

Civilian volunteers helped remove some of the injured and frightened.

Bernard Trasca, a sailor, found a war veteran hobbling around on artificial legs looking for his cane. Trasca carried him down a fire escape. A blind woman, clutching the harness of a seeing-eye dog, walked safely down a fire escape.

One woman, who was carried down a fire escape by firemen, gave birth to a baby on arrival at Passavant hospital.

When the fire started, Mrs. Julia Barry, 44 year old widow operating the main switchboard on the second floor of the hotel, remained at her post, ringing the rooms to rouse the guests. Firemen found her body at the switchboard.

Twenty-seven of the dead still were unidentified 12 hours after the fire started.

Register Destroyed

First Battalion Chief Eugene Freeman, 45, a war veteran in the Navy's fire department at Pearl Harbor, died from smoke suffocation. Nearly 30 other firemen were injured.

The hotel guests who fled to safety were given temporary accommodations in the ballrooms and lobbies of other loop hotels.

Coroner A. L. Brodie set an inquest for today and planned to use hotel managers and engineers on the jury.

The hotel's register was destroyed in the fire, hampering efforts at identification.

It was the city's greatest fire tragedy since 675 persons were killed in the Iroquois theater fire in 1903.

The great Chicago fire in 1871 took 200 lives and damaged property valued at $200,000,000.

MICHIGAN CASUALTIES

Chicago, June 5 (AP)—At least three Michigan residents lost their lives as fire raced through the La Salle Hotel early today, bringing death to 58 persons and injuries to more than 200 others.

Three members of a prominent Niles, Mich., family were trapped in the blaze, which resulted in the death of 12-year-old Michael Tyler and critical injury to his father, Jerry Tyler, 49, while his mother, Mary, 38, was listed among the missing.

Tyler, president of the Tyler Fixtures Corp., which maintains plants in Niles, Cobleskill, N. Y., and Texas, is listed in "very serious" condition at St. Luke's hospital. He has been active in Michigan Republican political circles and in 1942 was an unsuccessful candidate for GOP national committeeman.

The other Michigan victims were:

Severn E. Korn, about 50, Battle Creek, who was suffocated. He was production engineer for a refining company in Chicago. His son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Severn R. Korn escaped from the blazing hotel.

Major Hugh Huddleston, 37, Houghton, a Guadalcanal veteran and an R. O. T. C. inspection officer of the 3650th service unit, detachment six and was professor of military science and tactics at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton in June 1944.

Francis E. McCarthy, 30, a resident of Akron, O., but formerly of Detroit, also died. He was a former University of Detroit student and was employed by the General Tire and Rubber company.

Robert Bradley, a salesman for the same concern, said McCarthy visited at his 16th floor room during the evening and left shortly before the fire broke out to return to his own fourth floor room.

A graphic account of the fire was given by Meyer Goldberg, 55, a Detroit jeweler, who said the hallways became jammed with screaming women within a few minutes after the blaze was discovered. He aided several to fire escapes.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clarke, of Detroit, who were uninjured in the fire, said they did not know of the blaze until they heard a commotion in the halls and noise in the street. Mrs. H. J. Crawford, of Niles, also escaped without injury.

Meanwhile Detroit's acting fire marshal, Capt. Loren G. Farrell, arrived here to confer with fire officials regarding the blaze. He will make a personal investigation of the scene.

Robert Might, 20, of Flint, Mich., discharged yesterday from the navy at Great Lakes, was credited with being the sailor mentioned by at least 15 guests at the LaSalle as their rescuer.

He dragged about 20 persons from upper floors and led other frightened guests down a fire escape. He fainted later as he talked to a reporter.

Real Summer Due In Michigan Today, But It Won't Last

Detroit, June 5 (AP)—A taste of real summer is in store for Michigan Thursday, with an expected high of 80 degrees, a reading of two degrees above normal.

But, the weatherman warns, don't make a rush for summer togs—it won't last.

Showers in the Upper Peninsula Thursday afternoon and in Lower Michigan on Friday will send temperatures tumbling. A minimum of 52 degrees was predicted for Thursday morning.

City Council Rules Garbage Collections To Follow Ordinance

Munis.—The present garbage ordinance set up for the City of Munising will be strictly adhered to in all cases it was announced yesterday by the Munising City Council.

Recognizing the fact that the war years created hardships on car and truck owners through rationing of gas and tires, the city was lenient on the strict enforcement of the ordinance. However, due to increased costs, both of material and labor, the city finds it must hold to the ordinance rulings. The cost of garbage collection has increased from $4,200 in 1942 to over $8,000 in 1945, which requires curtailment of extra services, it was reported to the council.

The ordinance will be enforced to the letter beginning June 15, the council ruled, and all extra pickups or collections, other than those found in the proper metal cans or containers will be charged for at a rate to be determined by the time consumed in the collection of such other refuse. Stores and other business places that have had such extra collections made will be charged accordingly starting on June 15.

The garbage collection of the city of Munising has functioned and given a service, second to none in the state, and the city means to continue this indispensable service but within its established rules and regulations, the city council said.

FOREST FIRES BURN 30 ACRES

Munising Plywood Sends Out Crew To Combat Blaze

Munising.—Two forest fires in the last 24 hours were reported on Wednesday by Benjamin Hemingway, assistant forest ranger, Munising station.

Late yesterday afternoon between 20 and 30 acres were in flames just southwest of Wheelbarrow lake with about 65 men from Munising and vicinity fighting the fire. The blaze was reported about 11:20 Wednesday morning.

Ranger Hemingway stated that they hoped to have it under control before nightfall. Roland Blaire, district forest ranger, was in charge of the crew fighting the fire yesterday. Crews from the Munising Plywood company, Bay de Noc Camp 31, Iverson logging camp and a few men from the city of Munising were working to combat the blaze.

The other forest fire occurred Tuesday afternoon starting about 3:35 p. m. and was under control by 5 p. m. The fire burned about 2 1/2 acres a mile and one half west of Shingleton along the Duluth South Shore and Atlantic Railroad. It was believed started by a passing train. It was spotted by the Wetmore towerman at about 3:35 and the engineer of the east bound train also reported it at Wetmore on his arrival there.

CORRECTION

Munising.—In the account of the wedding of Miss Edna Herebecka, Eben, in Sunday morning's edition of the Escanaba Daily Press it was erroneously stated that Harry Olsen Jr., was the bridegroom. Miss Herebecka was married to Charles Olsen and Harry Olsen was the best man.

Lions Club Hears Meyland On USES

Munising.—Speaking to members of the Munising Lions club at their regular meeting at the Sylvan Inn Tuesday evening, Walter C. Meyland, manager of the Munising office, United States Employment Service, pointed out that the prime purpose of his office is "matching men with jobs."

He explained that the USES is not a compensation payment office, not a relief agency and not a Social Security office. He also said that the Employment Service personnel are not the judges as to whether or not a man or woman should obtain unemployment or readjustment compensation.

A program containing six major points has been set up by the agency which have proven effective in putting men on jobs, he said. The most important of these points is the placement process which includes the reception, registration, classification, referral placement and follow-up of a worker.

Drafting 'Teen Agers

THE U. S. senate has taken a realistic approach to the nation's military problem in voting to restore the 'teen age draft and increasing the pay of enlisted men in the armed services.

Those who have been fighting against the drafting of 'teen agers in occupation duty have failed to recognize an obligation to men already in service and who are due for discharge soon. Unless replacements are found for them, they will be required to remain in service to meet the responsibilities of occupation.

In raising the pay level of enlisted men, the senate is recognizing that adequate encouragement must be provided for volunteers in the hope that enlistments will reach a volume sufficiently high to meet the nation's needs. When that goal is reached, the draft law can be abandoned entirely.

The pool of 18 and 19 year old youngsters available for military service constitutes the only substantial group that can be called upon now for military duty. The remainder of the draft lists have been thoroughly combed over many times. The drafting of 'teen agers is not popular but there obviously is no other way to meet the military problem at this time.

Since the draft law was amended in mid-May to rule out the induction of 'teen agers, the draft procedure has virtually come to a halt. It must be apparent to all reasonable persons that this situation cannot continue if we are going to respect our military responsibilities and also be fair to those who have already done their part.

Ford to Expand

UNDER the leadership of Henry Ford II, the Ford Motor company is embarking on an ambitious program to regain dominance in the automobile industry.

At one time, more Ford cars were sold than any other make, but eventually the top position was captured by General Motors. The Ford company has undergone extensive reorganization since Henry Ford's grandson took over the reins of the vast industrial empire. Long-time top executives, like Harry Bennett and others, have been forced out of the company, and many new policies have been established.

This week, the youthful president announced that the Ford company will build a $50,000,000 research and engineering center, whose efforts will be directed toward the manufacturing of better cars at prices more people can afford. In this respect, Henry Ford II is pursuing a policy long ago established by his grandfather. In addition, young Ford announced that the company's 14 assembly plants, closed since May 8, will be reopened on June 24. Announcement of the resumption of full-scale operations by Ford will be welcomed in the Upper Peninsula, for it should mean renewed activity at Iron Mountain, Big Bay, L'Anse, Munising and other communities where the company has industrial properties.

The Meaning of Planning

TWO problems confront every community: The improvement of present-day conditions, and the anticipation of future needs. The only excuse any city has for its existence is the provision of a healthful, comfortable, and convenient environment for living, working, and the transaction of business. No city or village is too small to plan. No Michigan community, be it a municipality or a county, has prospects so bad that there are no advantages to be gained by looking to the future. People of the Upper Peninsula who attend the Local Planning Institute at the Junior High School on Monday and Tuesday will be considering these things at the various sessions of the conference.

Almost everyone has had some planning experience, from outlining a vacation trip or baking a cake, to building a house or organizing a party. City and county planning is simply the attempt to guide and direct the future development of a community. In our state, planning has become an official function of local government. The purpose of such planning is to increase the material, social, and personal satisfactions of living. It is concerned with the welfare, health, education, recreation, commerce, industry, and employment of the citizens of the community.

In its deepest sense, planning is very basic to the development of democracy. Democracy depends upon it. Because of the complexity, confusion, and technical nature of our modern civilization, people today are compelled to depend more and more upon government. People don't usually lose their desire for services when local governmental units do not respond. They are more apt to pass over these local units and turn to the state or national government for attention and assistance. Democracy depends in large measure upon government remaining close to the people and the people keeping close to their government. The planning function unites government and people at the point of evaluating the present and laying out the future of the community. The future justly belongs to the community that plans for it.

The planning function is an advisory one, separate and distinct from administrative and legislative functions. Planners do not construct projects or pass laws to regulate parking and zoning. Instead, they make studies, gather and interpret facts, and, on the basis of such work, prepare plans for the improvement of the community and the benefit of its citizens. The carrying out of such plans, once adopted by democratic procedure, is the function of the various administrative and operating departments and agencies of local government. The idea of scientifically bringing together facts in order to recommend action is something very new to most units of government.

All people have attitudes and dreams as they work. They like to keep one foot on the ground, but often their heads are in the clouds. It is vain to try to remodel a small community on some big-city basis. It is much better to emphasize and preserve the peculiar attractions of the community, its natural situation, its special opportunities. Planning should never deprive a community of its individuality. Often this is one of the most valuable assets. This fact should be recognized in all planning. The objective should be to develop the real individuality, the genuine personality, of the community.

Italy Rejects King

UNOFFICIAL figures in the Italian referendum have indicated that the Italian people are ready to scuttle their monarchy and turn to a republican form of government.

Further encouragement is revealed in the fact that the middle-of-the-road Christian Democratic party has emerged from the election in command of Italian politics.

Assuming that the unofficial figures are confirmed in the final, official tabulation, the result of the Italian election will do much to gain American friendship and assistance for the Italian people.

In one bold stroke, Italy has rejected its traditional policy of paying tribute to a puppet king, which it does not need and cannot afford. Moreover, in rejecting the monarchy Italy also refused to throw its political fortunes into the hands of the extremists, the Communists and Socialists although it must be conceded that those elements have made a strong bid.

BLOW TO COAL

(Chicago Journal of Commerce)
Soft coal prices will increase 30 to 35 cents a ton at retail as a result of the contract signed by the government and John L. Lewis, according to some Washington officials. The actual increase in costs necessitated by the agreement will be more than 60 cents a ton, in the opinion of mine operators.

It remains to be seen how much of the burden will have to be assumed by the public and by the operators, retailers and jobbers. It is certain, however, that even if the whole amount were passed on to consumers the industry would have cause for worry.

Higher prices for coal mean an advantage for competitive fuels. In some areas those fuels will be able to cut under the cost of coal and in others the price gap will be considerably narrowed.

If this contingency were a result of natural competition, there could be no reasonable objection. But it is not natural; it is a result of government intervention in a labor dispute.

Bargaining with Mr. Lewis, Secretary of the Interior Krug on behalf of the government gave the miners a daily wage increase of $1.85, a welfare and retirement fund financed by 5 cents a ton on all soft coal produced, and other financial benefits. The private owners and operators have no real choice in the matter. They must accept this contract if they want to get their properties back from the government.

The conditions which make for a decline in coal's competitive advantage thus are not of the industry's doing. The government itself has dealt a blow to bituminous coal, which for years has been in the position of a man trying to stay out of the hospital.

The difference between a blonde and a brunette quite often is a man.

A bowler is about the only fellow who doesn't mind getting the old double cross.

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?

(Scrapbook Item)
Q. I just tuned out a commentator who evoked the "shades of Thomas Jefferson." Does he imply that the Sage of Monticello was twice?—O. C. C.

A. Reference to the "shades" of some long-dead person is a quite common error. It was once believed that, at the moment of death, one's soul could be seen leaving the body. The soul, it was thought, resembled one's shadow; hence, the term "shade" for soul, ghost, spirit. Obviously, the commentator should have referred to the "shade" of Thomas Jefferson.

Q. All my life I've heard that the definition of the word prayer is, "The sincere desire of the heart unuttered or expressed." Whose definition is it?—Mrs. D. L. R.
A. The poet James Montgomery (1771-1854) wrote the definition in his poem, "What Is Prayer?"

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—In the latest blast from Moscow, American imperialism is the charge hurled by Russia in connection with the American interest in bases. This charge echoed loudly over the proposal to keep a U. S. base in Iceland. It was picked up in this country by champions of Russia.

Here is an important fact which certainly modifies that charge. It is a fact which was concealed by wartime secrecy.

At only one point are the borders of the Soviet union and the United States in close proximity. Across the Bering strait, the western tip of Alaska is separated from the eastern tip of Siberia by only 54 miles. In western Alaska, there are not only no bases but no defenses of any consequence.

The story of our defense system in Alaska, our farthest frontier, is a curious one. The Army and Navy together have poured more than a billion dollars into Alaska. A great chain of bases has been built in southern Alaska and the Aleutians. With one or two minor exceptions, these bases are hundreds of miles—in the worst flying weather in the world—from the nearest border of our wartime ally, Russia.

—BASES AIMED AT JAPAN—

One of the minor exceptions is Kuskokwim a base built at the head of Kuskokwim bay, which is about 300 air miles north of the Aleutians. Kuskokwim is now being decommissioned, as is another base on the west coast, Naknek.

The major bases were all aimed at Japan. They are far out in the Aleutian chain. Perhaps the largest is at Adak. One almost entirely unknown to the public is on the tiny island of Shemya. It was selected because it is almost the only island in the chain with sufficient flat surface to provide a landing field for heavy bombers.

Although it was hidden by top-secret restrictions, a start was made on a base on the Seward peninsula, which is nearest the great Asiatic land mass. At great cost, materials were hauled to Port Clarence, north of Nome. They were to go into a base back of Port Clarence at Point Spencer.

Those materials have now been declared surplus. The plans for the base have been abandoned. Some of our Alaskan defense advisers believe this is a mistake. They argue that, with millions still being spent on defensive bases in the South Pacific, a little could be spared for a purely defensive base on the westernmost tip of Alaska.

The whole of northwest Alaska is without any real defense system. One may ask what it matters—just a lot of frozen, empty country? One answer is that the Navy is preparing to develop what appears to be extensive oil deposits in northern Alaska. Another and far more important answer is that Alaska would give an enemy easy bombing range of U. S. industrial centers.

—WHAT'S RUSSIA DOING?—

All through the war, Alaska was a major ferry point for lend-lease planes going to Russia. American pilots were not allowed to deliver those planes on Russian soil. Instead, Russian pilots were flown to Fairbanks, 500 miles in the interior. Wartime Fairbanks was an extraordinary spectacle, with Russians constantly going and coming. Yet in two or three instances when top-flight Americans wanted to fly into Russia by the back door, it took all sorts of negotiations. Special restrictions were applied on these flights. One visitor who went in that way was Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace. Wendell Willkie, at the conclusion of his "one world" journey, flew out by the back door to Alaska. Planning and construction of the base at Point Spencer was a top secret in its beginning phase. But Soviet flyers flew back and forth across the area almost at will.

About what is happening in the eastern tip of Siberia, we know nothing or next to nothing. It is a certainty, however, that the Soviets, with their far-reaching intelligence system, know the exact status of our Alaskan defense. What is printed here will not be news in Moscow.

If the United States had imperialistic aims that in any way involved Soviet Russia, then the first place to establish bases would be where the two borders are only 54 miles apart. This country has shown no intention of fortifying our side of that border. What Russia is doing on the other side is only one small part of the great unknown.

Q. In an art review I notice the word "Kitsch" used apparently in the meaning of an inferior painting; a potboiler. The word is not in my dictionary. Will you please give its origin?—A. B.

A. "Kitsch" is a German word meaning "daub; cheap, sentimental fiction; any shoddy, money-making art." It is pronounced: kitch, like the first syllable of kitchen.

Writer and art critic Clement Greenburg of New York states: "I believe I was first to use 'Kitsch' in English, in an article in the Partisan Review, in the Spring 1940 issue. Since then, it seems, 'Kitsch' has gained wide dissemination."

DAIRY COUNTRY—The Upper Peninsula is fortunate in having a thriving dairy industry. Some counties in particular are outstanding in the dairy business, among them Menominee and Delta, although in Delta, as in many counties, potatoes are still counted as the chief "cash crop."

More and more there is an organized effort to assist the dairy farmer in making his business successful economically, so that the Upper Peninsula as a whole will benefit. Among the programs which might be mentioned are:

Dunathan

The cooperative program in which purebred bulls and heifers are purchased in Lower Michigan, or from good stock on U. P. farms, and sold to improve the herds of a growing number of dairy farmers. There is also the establishment of a pathological laboratory in Escanaba by the state department of agriculture, which is of great assistance in helping control Bang's disease and mastitis—two diseases of great economic importance to herd owners. There is also the program sponsored by the federal government in connection with the control of Bang's disease.

THIRD YEAR—For the third successive year, purebred stock was supplied to U. P. heard owners through a cooperative program sponsored by the Development Bureau, Michigan State College and the Department of Agriculture. As part of their year-around work, orders for the bulls and heifers were taken by the county agricultural agents.

Then each spring George McIntyre, dairy specialist at Chatham, and a representative of the Development Bureau, make buying trips to try and fill these orders. Sixty-eight bulls and eight heifers have been distributed to U. P. farmers during the past several weeks. The animals are trucked from Lower Michigan to the U. P. State Fair grounds at Escanaba, and are held there for a few days before they are delivered.

A HEALTHY LOT — George McIntyre, the dairy specialist from Chatham, was in Escanaba the other day and reported on the success of the 1946 purebred breeding stock program. In the dairy department of the U. P. extension news letter, McIntyre wrote:

"Trials, tribulations and details were aplenty, but the worry of a row of corpus delecti each morning was not among them. Sickness that camped at the fair grounds last year was absent. Only two small animals were sick this year, and they responded admirably to the treatment of Dr. Heiden."

IMPROMPTU RODEO — The work of the men with the young bulls at the fair ground this year was complicated by an incident which was not particularly amusing at the time. Later all of the men got a laugh out of it. Here is the way McIntyre describes it: "Pip Wenner, Gail Bowers, Joe Heiman and Jim Wells all helped to feed, care and get the animals ready for delivery. Frank Molinar was standing by awaiting a call, but his help was not needed this year."

"Highlighting the week was the grand finale in the form of a

Montevideo, Uruguay — The American legation here was bombed today, this being the second bombing in recent weeks of a United States legation in a South American country, attributed to agitation of radicals over the conviction for murder in Massachusetts of Nicolao Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti.

rodeo with 'Bull-dozer' Wenner and his supporting cast of McIntyre, Samuelson, Bishop and Jack Sheehan and his aide, Olson, roping one of the large Guernsey bulls that broke from confinement, roamed the fair grounds for two days and nights charging, battling and defying his captors.

"The first night McIntyre tried blinding the beast with the car headlights, then dashed out with a noose—only to capture the space where the animal had been."

"The following morning the trio, Wenner, Samuelson and McIntyre, tried to catch him in a corner of the fair grounds, only to find when about 200 feet from their prize that he was stampeding directly at one of them, head down, tail over his back, and a low moan to his voice. At the last moment a quick side step in the best rodeo fashion led the brute past by—all except one, when Pip forgot to step. The result? He flew through the air with the greatest of ease."

"Friday morning the bull took the battle to his captors and they took to Jack Sheehan's truck, with McIntyre astride the hood, lariat swinging. After several futile throws, McIntyre dismounted from the hood, got hold of the critter's tail and half-hitched him to a tree, thus slowing him down enough for Wenner to 'bull-doze' him down."

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. What is the cause of ordinary sea waves?

A. The wind, pressing unequally on the surface of the sea, depresses one part more than another; every depression causes a corresponding elevation, and these undulations are called waves.

Q. When did England and France change from absolute to limited monarchy?

A. The modern form of absolute monarchy first made its appearance in France with the doctrine of the Divine right of Kings, culminating in the absolutism of Louis XIV. The Stuarts of England held the doctrine until the beheading of Charles I in 1649. It was shattered in France by the French Revolution.

Q. Is it proper to serve clear soups in the same size cups as used to serve the thicker soups, such as cream soups? What about the spoons?

A. Small cups, usually with two handles, are used for clear soups; larger, shallower cups of the same type are used for the thicker soups. Vegetable soups, chowders, and gumbos call for soup plates or bowls. Large spoons are used with the thicker soups, and for clear and creamed soups the smaller, round bowl spoons are used.

Q. Do all the states where boxing is legal have two judges, besides a referee?

A. No; some states have only one official, the referee.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Erdute Senator Vandenberg of Michigan not only has been doing a good job on Foreign Relations, but he takes it—and himself—seriously. Perhaps one is necessary to the other. Talking to a friend the other day, the Michigan Senator opined:

"Well, we're getting along pretty well now that we have a Republican foreign policy."
"What do you mean?"
"Well, analyze it for yourself," shot back the man who may be the next GOP nominee. "It all goes back to my now somewhat famous speech of January 1945."

Note—Van claims he is getting bored with politics. "One question I can't answer to my wife's satisfaction," he says, "Is why I'm running for re-election (as senator). I've threatened to divorce her if she asks me again." (The answer, of course, is that if Van doesn't run again for senator, he won't be in the trial heats for president.)

—RUSSIA'S ONE-TIME FRIEND—
How tragically the Russian situation has deteriorated is illustrated by undersecretary of state Dean Acheson. Once the Soviets' most important friend in the State Department, Acheson is now bitter against them.

Most people don't know that it was Acheson who first helped sell Secretary Byrnes on a conciliatory course toward Russia. Son of the Episcopal bishop of Connecticut, Acheson argued that the Russians, despite all their bumptiousness and bad manners, would improve if we showed tolerance, patience. Now Acheson has been kicked in the teeth so often that, the other day, he remarked:

"The Soviet is like a sneak thief walking down the street trying door latches. If the police come along, they're merely walking down the street. But if they find a latch unlocked and the police aren't looking, they'll go in."

—SENATE LABOR REBELLION—
Deadliest backstage punches against President Truman's labor-draft program were scored by CIO president Phil Murray in a secret meeting held by the Senate Education and Labor Committee.

Those present included Murray, Lew Hines, AFL legislative representative, Martin Miller, representing Al Whitney's railway trainmen; plus Senators Jim Murray of Montana (chairman), David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, Elbert Thomas of Utah, Claude Pepper of Florida, Lister Hill of Alabama, Joe Guffey of Pennsylvania, and Wayne Morse of Oregon.

The CIO president got right down to cases.

"My organization has always followed President Truman's administrations in labor disputes and the record proves it," Murray declared. "Look at the auto, steel and oil disputes. We went along with the fact-finding boards. In some cases we had to accept much below what we asked, but we did so patriotically."

"Can industry say as much?" Murray continued. "Look what happened during the auto strike. General Motors held out for months against the recommendations of Truman's fact-finding board, which labor was willing to accept. That was a case of management striking against the government, but did President Truman call for a joint session of congress to upbraid General Motors officials as he did recently against labor? He did not."

—NO-STRIKE PLEDGE?—
Then, with a scowl, the usually mild-mannered CIO boss acidly added: "Did he offer legislation then to penalize and enslave all management as he did in this case against labor? Well, I don't remember reading anything about it."

Senator Hill inquired if labor would be willing to offer Truman a compromise on the strike issue, such as a six-month no-strike pledge.

"That is impossible, as far as the CIO is concerned," replied Murray emphatically. "My organization is run on democratic lines and such a pledge could never be enforced. When members of a CIO union are working under intolerable conditions, I couldn't dictate to them not to strike. Therefore, I would never agree to such a pledge."

—SUMNER WELLES FOR U. N.—

If President Truman accepts the advice of high-up friends and makes Sumner Welles U. S. delegate to the United Nations, it will not only rectify an old wrong, but also pick up a policy which Welles sold Roosevelt in 1943, but which has been allowed to lapse for three years—until last month.

This is the policy of writing the peace with all nations—big and little—sitting in. Secretary of State Byrnes finally came around to this idea only last month after his failure at Paris. Welles, however, had urged this on Roosevelt during the height of the war when the Russians still had their backs to the wall at Stalingrad and the British were still in their bombproof cellars. That was the time, Welles argued, when the terms of peace should be written.

Welles also sold Roosevelt on the idea that the small nations would be our best Allies for permanent peace. They had the most to lose through war. Their territories were always laid waste. Therefore, not merely the big 3 or the big 4 or the big 5, which are more likely to start wars, but the little nations which don't want war, Welles urged, should be included in the peace settlement.

Roosevelt agreed. But when Cordell Hull forced Welles' resignation and took his fateful trip to Moscow in the autumn of 1943, he forgot all about the little nations and set up a council of big 4 foreign ministers.

It doesn't count if you're an optimist only because you're too lazy to kick.

ROTARY HONOR PROGRAM HELD

Students And Parents
Guests Yesterday
At Luncheon

Honor students of St. Joseph high school and of Escanaba high school and their parents yesterday were guests of the Escanaba Rotary club at its annual honor day luncheon at the Delta hotel, with Wallace C. Cameron, Gladstone school superintendent, as speaker.

E. E. Edick, principal of Escanaba Senior high school, presented honor students of the graduating class and their parents, and the honor students of St. Joseph's high school and their parents were introduced by Rev. Fr. Alphonse Wilberding, pastor of St. Joseph's church. John Lemmer, Escanaba school superintendent, was toastmaster, and invocation was delivered by the Rev. Otto Steen, pastor of the First Methodist church. Joseph Ivens, club president, presided.

Guests in addition to the students and parents included Miss Delvine Hebert and Miss Nancy Moran, winners of the Rotary club's watch award in past years, and William Warrington, president of the Escanaba board of education.

Responding briefly as the "Rotary Girl" and "Rotary Boy" of 1946 were Sue Moran and Jack Schils. This year the club sponsored a watch award to an outstanding boy honor student as well as to a girl. The award to a girl student has been an annual recognition since 1926.

In his talk Superintendent Cameron described the changing times that have made graduates "unwanted" in the depression days of the 1930's, "wanted" during the period of the war. The present situation is one that is being met with sympathetic concern by those who will provide employment and opportunity for youth, despite the difficulties of the readjustment from wartime to peacetime, Superintendent Cameron said.

The speaker called upon the youth to face the world with energy and high moral standards, and to work for a better world in which the philosophy of hate of past generations will be replaced with a philosophy of live and let live. He urged them to so live that they would be of value to themselves and to others, and stressed the need for planning for their future and the future of the world in which they will live.

Fight Slash Fire In U. S. Forest At Wheelbarrow Lake

Fire starting in hardwood slashing near Wheelbarrow Lake in Hiawatha National Forest shortly after noon yesterday burned over an area of 20 acres in a few hours and was being fought by a crew of 50 men in an effort to bring it under control, it was reported yesterday afternoon by the U. S. Forest Service office in Escanaba.

Wheelbarrow Lake is located near the center of the forest area in Alger county.

About 25 Forest Service personnel and 25 to 30 men of the Bay de Noc Lumber company were fighting the blaze which is believed to have been started by sparks from a logging engine. It was reported that an effort was being made by the fire fighters to confine the fire to the south edge of an area that was burned over last year in a fire just north of the present blaze. The fire in 1945 was also in a slashing and a total of 100 acres was burned over before it was brought under control.

Exactly two years ago today at 4:18 a.m.

Two years ago today the first American troops splashed up onto the beaches of Normandy—and the Allied invasion of Western Europe had begun.

That great invasion could never have been launched, could never have succeeded, if the American people hadn't "backed the attack"—by buying millions upon millions of War Bonds.

Today, praise God, the war is over. But it's still important for you to keep on buying Bonds.

WHY?

Because it's the easiest, safest, surest way you can back your own future.

It's the best way to set aside money for rainy days, for building a home, for sending the kids to college, or for old age.

These Bonds are now called U. S. Savings

Bonds. But they're exactly like War Bonds. They're sold at the same places—banks, post offices, or at your place of employment. They're guaranteed by Uncle Sam personally.

And in only 10 years, they'll pay you $4 for every $3 you put in!

You bought 'em for your country—now buy 'em for yourself! Get every U. S. Savings Bond you can possibly afford!

PLAN CLINICSChildren Of Pre-School
Age To Be Examined
By Dr. Brenner

Pre-school clinics for the examination and immunization of children who enter school this fall, will be held at Lakeside school on the morning of Tuesday, June 11, at 9 o'clock, and at the same time the next morning at Lincoln school.

The clinics will be sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' Associations of the two schools and the examinations will be made by Dr. E. J. Brenner, director of the Alger-Schoolcraft Health Department.

Dr. Brenner wishes to emphasize that it is very important that all parents bring their children to these clinics in order that the youngsters will be properly prepared for entering school next fall. Incidence of diphtheria and smallpox, he states, has markedly increased in the past few years and every opportunity to lessen the possibility of these occurring in this community should be taken.

Parents wishing to have children other than those entering school this fall, vaccinated and immunized are urged to bring them to either of these clinics. The doctor states that children immunized against diphtheria several years ago should be brought in at this time for a booster dose so as to be fully protected before entering school. Dates of previous immunization can be obtained by calling the health department whose telephone number is 509.

Members of the PTA of both schools will call on parents in their area to urge attendance at the clinics on the days specified. Mrs. George Morton is general chairman, Mrs. Leslie Boushous is chairman of the Lakeside-Central PTA and Mrs. Richard Larson and Mrs. William Mordon are in charge of the clinics at the Lincoln school.

There are 225 separate and distinct operations in a modern American clothing factory.

Will Attempt To Solve Mystery
Of Big Spring

Miss Helen Martin, state geologist, of Lansing, is in this area at present procuring data that may ultimately solve the mystery of the source of the Kitch-iti-ki-pi water supply.

Miss Martin's procedure in finding an answer to this problem which has, up to the present, baffled geologists, was not fully explained by her, but she revealed that it does take into account the chemical analysis of the water and the sands that are constantly sifting up from subterranean openings at the bottom of the spring.

The sulphurous content of the water and the sand, scientists claim, have little in common with the water and rock of the immediate vicinity and the extremely cold water, which maintains a constant temperature winter and summer has added to the mystery.

Pike Takes Tom's
Sunfish, So Tom
Takes Home Pike

Tommy Peterson, about 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Robare, 701 Montana avenue, had the thrill of a lifetime yesterday morning while fishing in the Gladstone harbor.

Tommy, fishing with worm and a small perch hook, had caught a small sun fish and he was leaving it swim about in front of him, in no hurry to remove it from the water and from the hook.

All of a sudden there was a commotion in the water close to his fish, the line started stripping from his reel and Tommy found that something had grabbed his sunfish and was going places. The lad's pole broke and Tom called to another boy for help. Ten or more minutes later the pair landed a good sized northern pike that measured 35 inches in length and weighed 8 pounds.

Tommy plans on entering the fish in the Daily Press contest.

PLAYERS CALL FOR BARGAINING

Club Accused Of Using Dilatory Tactics; Five Others Signed Up

BY ARDEN SKIDMORE
Pittsburgh, June 6 (AP)—A possible strike by the Pittsburgh Pirates was averted at a club house session shortly before the players took the field against the Brooklyn Dodgers tonight but the threat was deferred until Friday night's game with the New York Giants.

Robert Murphy, National Labor Relations director of the American Baseball Guild, announced that the players voted unanimously to play Brooklyn tonight but against the threat of a strike by the Pirates. The Guild's action was a collective bargaining election, which would determine whether Guild members were in the majority.

The threat of a strike by a union was the first in the history of major league baseball.

Benswanger Called In
Tonight's game went on at 8:30 p. m. (Eastern Daylight Time) as scheduled only after a dramatic eleventh-hour session in the Pirates dressing room.

President William E. Benswanger made his first visit to the clubhouse in 12 years to address the players after Murphy announced the game with the Dodgers would be delayed until he appeared.

Benswanger, following Murphy's ultimatum, walked to the dressing room and talked with the players who sat around calmly, listening as he told them he had thought he always had been fair with them and that he would leave any decision up to them. The players said nothing.

The club's attorney, Seward H. French, Jr., did most of the talking to the players and reiterated the club's stand that the issue—recognition of the Guild—should be deferred until the end of the baseball season.

Vote To Go Ahead
At French's suggestion, all except the players left the dressing room so the team could decide whether tonight's game should go on.

Murphy said later the players voted by a show of hands to go ahead with the game.

The developments followed the collapse of a conference in Benswanger's office earlier today between the Guild and club representatives.

About 7:45 o'clock, Benswanger, accompanied by Seward French, chief of counsel for the club, and other officials of the club, went to the dressing room. Benswanger said it was the first time he had visited there since 1934 when he went to the dressing room to announce the resignation of George Gibson as manager, at Gibson's request.

Immediate Hearing Demanded
Benswanger said: "I am willing to leave it up to the boys. I have always been fair to the boys. You boys know I can be expected in 15 minutes to make a decision which is to last a long time."

Murphy said the players who are members of the Guild voted unanimously by a show of hands to go ahead with tonight's game, rather than disappoint the crowd already in the stands. He added that 90 per cent of the Pirates are members of the Guild.

He said: "The Guild won't strike until it is the last resort."

Following the conference with Pirates management this afternoon, Murphy said he would press immediately for an NLRB hearing and election to determine a bargaining agent for the players.

"The Pittsburgh players do not want to wait until the season is over, and letting this thing slide isn't going to help you one bit," Murphy snapped at a heated 45-minute open meeting with Pirates officials and attorneys.

Contracts Criticized
Seward H. French, Jr., counsel for the club, suggested deferral of the Guild issue, declaring: "The ball players are now working hard at a successful season, and we don't think it's appropriate time to have these questions determined."

James H. Beal, Jr., another attorney for the club, said an election would be a disrupting factor to the Pirates at this time and said the club would be perfectly willing to thrash the thing out later. He denied the Pirates were trying to stall off the Guild.

Murphy, his temper flaring, shouted: "That's just talk and window dressing."

Murphy, who claims he has signed the majority of players on five other major league clubs besides the Pirates, accused the club of "dilatory tactics" and retorted that delays might go on until 1948.

"The validity of baseball contracts makes me laugh. A baseball owner can do as he wants with a player on 10-day notice," Murphy said.

William E. Benswanger, president of the Pirates, sat throughout the meeting puffing on a pipe and made but one remark. He told Murphy that he thought he had "overstepped bounds by going to the NLRB before today's meeting."

ESCANABA CUBS ACQUIRE THORIN

Port Sider Will Pitch Against Trenary Sunday

The Escanaba Cubs will make a belated debut in the Rainbow baseball league here Sunday, meeting the potent Trenary club at the Escanaba city diamond at 2:30 o'clock.

The Cubs drew postponements in their first two scheduled games in the Rainbow league because of conflict with high school regulations and will play those games, with Marquette and Munising, in doubleheaders later in the season.

Manager Al Ness announced yesterday that Bill Thorin, left hander secured from the Escanaba Bears, will be on the mound Sunday for the Cubs against the Trenary team. The acquisition of Thorin gives the Cubs an experienced hurler to implement the speed of the youngsters, most of whom played with the Escanaba high school baseball team this spring.

In addition to Thorin, the club is bolstered by several other experienced ball players, among them Mickey Kuchenberg and Tommy Dufour.

The Cubs probably will be the youngest ball club in the Rainbow league, but their supporters contend they will also be the fastest and probably one of the best defensive teams in the circuit. George Williams, patriarch of the Rainbow league, said yesterday that the Cubs will prove to be one of the most popular clubs in the league.

Manager John Schwalbach of the Escanaba Bears released Thorin to the Cubs Tuesday night at the request of Ness to meet the Cubs' pitching problem. Thorin had been used both as a pitcher and first baseman by the Bears. He is regarded as a good hitter.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

It may be quite a number of years before an Escanaba high school class produces the quantity and quality of athletes which the class that is graduating tonight can boast. The class is not an unusually large one as EHS senior classes go. It consists of 195 students, well below the 200-plus average of prewar years. Yet the class produced all of the first string material for the championship Eskymo football team of last fall and the entire starting combination for the championship Eskymo basketball team. It is a class that has completely dominated high school athletics here for the past two years.

The sparkling athletic record of the Class of 1946 is indicative of Philadelphia, June 5 (AP)—Two home runs, one by George Kell in the first inning and another by Dick Wakefield in the sixth, each with the bases empty, sent the Detroit Tigers on to a 2 to 0 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics in the second game of the series here today.

Virgil Trucks who started for the Tigers pitched four innings and then retired because of indigestion. He was credited with the victory. Al Benton relieved him and hurled shutout ball the rest of the way.

It was the second straight shut-out the Tigers handed the Mackmen. Detroit took last night's game by a similar 2-0 score.

Chicago, June 5 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs came from behind today to nose out the New York Giants, 6-5, with Eddie Waitkus' ninth inning single with the bases loaded and the score deadlocked being the payoff blow.

Rookie relief hurler Emil Kueh also starred for Chicago. Kueh entered the contest in the seventh inning after the Gants had pounded Starter Johnny Schmitz and Relievers Hit Bithorn and Bob Chipman for their five runs and all 1 hits. "Old Bobo sets some kind of a world record by joining us a fourth time and we'll give him a chance to show what he can do by starting him against Chicago Friday night," President Clark Griffith of the Senators said tonight.

BEARS PLAY AT IRON MOUNTAIN

Escanaba Team Meets Rangers In NWM League Game

Sparked by their first victory of the season in the NWM league last Sunday when they defeated the Iron Kings, 9 to 6, in 11-innings, the Escanaba Bears will meet the Iron Mountain Rangers Sunday afternoon at Iron Mountain.

The Rangers, widely regarded as either the strongest or second strongest in the league, lost considerable prestige last Sunday by bowing to Crystal Falls, 4 to 1. The Bears lost to Crystal Falls here in the first game of the season, 3 to 2.

Bud Herman, imported from Green Bay to handle the pitching chores for the Rangers, probably will grace the hill Sunday against the Bears. Beck or Fitzpatrick will hurl for Escanaba.

The Bears have shown a lot of dash in practice sessions this week and are making no secret of their determination to climb farther up the ladder at the expense of the Rangers.

Strike Of New Baseball Guild Threatens To Tie Up Pirates Game

PLAYERS CALL FOR BARGAINING

Club Accused Of Using Dilatory Tactics; Five Others Signed Up

BY ARDEN SKIDMORE

Pittsburgh, June 5 (AP)—A possible strike by the Pittsburgh Pirates was averted at a club house session shortly before the players took the field against the Brooklyn Dodgers tonight but the threat was deferred only until Friday night's game with the New York Giants.

Robert Murphy, National Labor Relations director of the American Baseball Guild, announced the players voted unanimously to play Brooklyn tonight but against Friday's game unless the Pirates officials agreed to a collective bargaining election, which would determine whether Guild members were in the majority.

The threat of a strike by a union was the first in the history of major league baseball.

Benswanger Called In
Tonight's game went on at 8:30 p. m. (Eastern Daylight Time) as scheduled only after a dramatic eleventh-hour session in the Pirates dressing room.

President William E. Benswanger made his first visit to the clubhouse in 12 years to address the players after Murphy announced the game with the Dodgers would be delayed until the players said nothing.

Benswanger, following Murphy's ultimatum, walked to the dressing room and talked with the players who sat around calmly, listening as he told them that he thought he always had been fair with them and that he would leave any decision up to them. The players said nothing.

The club's attorney, Seward H. French, Jr., did most of the talking to the players and reiterated the club's stand that the issue—recognition of the Guild—should be deferred until the end of the baseball season.

Vote To Go Ahead
At French's suggestion, all except the players left the dressing room so the team could decide whether tonight's game should go on.

Murphy said later the players voted by a show of hands to go ahead with the game.

The developments followed the collapse of a conference in Benswanger's office earlier today between the Guild and club representatives.

About 7:45 o'clock, Benswanger, accompanied by Seward French, chief of counsel for the club, and other officials of the club, went to the dressing room. Benswanger said it was the first time he had visited there since 1934 when he went to the dressing room to announce the resignation of George Gibson as manager, at Gibson's request.

Immediate Hearing Demanded
Benswanger said: "I am willing to leave it up to the boys. I have always been fair to the boys. You boys know I can't be expected in 15 minutes to make a decision which is to last a long time."

Murphy said the players who are members of the Guild voted unanimously by a show of hands that it would be "a good thing" to go ahead with tonight's game, rather than disappoint the crowd already in the stands. He added that 90 per cent of the Pirates are members of the Guild.

He said: "The Guild won't strike until it is the last resort."

Following the conference with Pirate management this afternoon, Murphy said he would press immediately for an NLRB hearing and election to determine a bargaining agent for the players.

"The Pittsburgh players do not want to wait until the season is over, and letting this thing slide isn't going to help you one bit," Murphy snapped at a heated 45-minute open meeting with Pirate officials and attorneys.

Contracts Criticized
Seward H. French, Jr., counsel for the club, suggested deferral of the Guild issue, declaring: "The ball players are now working hard at a successful season, and we don't think it's the appropriate time to have these questions determined."

James H. Beal, Jr., another attorney for the club, said an election would be a disrupting factor to the Pirates at this time and said the club would be perfectly willing to thrash the thing out later. He denied the Pirates were trying to stall off the Guild.

Murphy, his temper flaring, shouted: "That's just talk and window dressing."

Murphy, who claims he has signed the majority of players on five other major league clubs besides the Pirates, accused the club of "dilatory tactics" and retorted that delays might go on until 1948.

"The validity of baseball contracts makes me laugh. A baseball owner can do as he wants with a player on 10-day notice," Murphy said.

William E. Benswanger, president of the Pirates, sat throughout the meeting puffing on a pipe and made but one remark. He told Murphy that he thought he had "overstepped bounds" by going to the NLRB before today's meeting.

AT LIGHTED FIELD

Two upsets were registered last night in games at the Escanaba lighted field. Errors in the eighth inning, with the score tied 8-all enable the Peoples Hotel to take the Buck Inn down, 9 and 8. Derouin, pitching for the Peoples, allowed five hits.

A big seventh inning, with five runs marked up for them, gave the K. of C's a 13 to 9 triumph over Leuighs. The winning pitcher, Dugas, gave six hits and struck out eight.

ESCANABA CUBS ACQUIRE THORIN

Port Sider Will Pitch Against Trenary Sunday

The Escanaba Cubs will make a belated debut in the Rainbow baseball league here Sunday, meeting the potent Trenary club at the Escanaba city diamond at 2:30 o'clock.

The Cubs drew postponements in their first two scheduled games in the Rainbow league because of conflict with high school regulations and will play those games, with Marquette and Munising, in doubleheaders later in the season.

Manager Al Ness announced yesterday that Bill Thorin, left hander secured from the Escanaba Bears, will be on the mound Sunday for the Cubs against the Trenary team. The acquisition of Thorin gives the Cubs an experienced hurler to implement the speed of the youngsters, most of whom played with the Escanaba high school baseball team this spring. In addition to Thorin, the club is bolstered by several other experienced ball players, among them Mickey Kuechenberg and Tommy Dufour.

The Cubs probably will be the youngest ball club in the Rainbow league, but their supporters contend they will also be the fastest and probably one of the best defensive teams in the circuit. George Williams, patriarch of the Rainbow league, said yesterday that the Cubs will prove to be one of the most popular clubs in the league.

Manager John Schwalbach of the Escanaba Bears released Thorin to the Cubs Tuesday night at the request of Ness to meet the Cubs' pitching problem. Thorin had been used both as a pitcher and first baseman by the Bears. He is regarded as a good hitter.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

It may be quite a number of years before an Escanaba high school class produces the quantity and quality of athletes which the class that is graduating tonight can boast. The class is not an unusually large one as EHS senior classes go. It consists of 195 students, well below the 200-plus average of previous years. Yet the class produced all of the first string material for the championship Eskymo football team of last fall and the entire starting combination for the championship Eskymo basketball team. It is a class that has completely dominated high school athletics here for the past two years.

Kell And Wakefield Hit Circuit Clouts To Nip Athletics, 2 And 0

Philadelphia, June 5 (AP)—Two home runs, one by George Kell in the first inning and another by Dick Wakefield in the sixth, each with the bases empty, sent the Detroit Tigers on to a 2 to 0 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics in the second game of the series here today.

Virgil Trucks who started for the Tigers pitched four innings and then retired because of indigestion. He was credited with the victory. Al Benton relieved him and hurled shutout ball the rest of the way.

It was the second straight shut-out the Tigers handed the Mackmen. Detroit took last night's game by a similar 2-0 score. Detroit ..... 100 001 000—2 8 1

Washington, June 5 (AP)—"Hoot" Evers, young Detroit outfielder whose jaw was broken in Monday night's game here, will be able to leave for Detroit tonight, doctors attending him at Georgetown hospital said today.

Teammate Eddie Mayo, who sustained leg and chest injuries in a collision with Evers while chasing a fly ball, must remain in the hospital "two or three more days," the doctors reported.

Football Referee Raymond Lane Dies
Detroit, June 5 (AP)—Death has taken W. Raymond Lane, for more than two decades a leading football referee, at the age of 61.

Known to sports followers 40 years ago as "Busty," Lane died Tuesday night in Harper hospital after a brief illness. He was one of the first outstanding football players developed at old Detroit Central high and in his freshman year played at the University of Michigan.

Dan Casey, Villanova outfielder, hit .300 with the 1943 Great Lakes Navy nine.

SINGLE IN 9TH WINS FOR CUBS

Bruins Come From Way Back To Nose Out Giants, 6 To 5

Chicago, June 5 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs came from behind today to nose out the New York Giants, 6-5, with Eddie Waitkus' ninth inning single with the bases loaded and the score deadlocked being the payoff blow.

Rookie relief hurler Emil Kueh entered the contest in the seventh inning after the Giants had pounded Starter Johnny Schmitz and Relievers Hit Bithorn and Bob Chipman for their five runs and all 1 hits. The Cubs' ace firemen held the New Yorkers hitless the rest of the way to gain credit for his fourth triumph without a loss. New York ..... 022 001 000—5 12 0

Old Bobo Returns To Senators Fold; Everybody Happy

Washington, June 5 (AP)—Bobo Newsom, baseball's wonderful wanderer of the pitching mound, will come back "home" to Washington tomorrow and walk right into battle Friday night.

"Old Bobo sets some kind of a world record by joining us a fourth time and we'll give him a chance to show what he can do by starting him against Chicago Friday night," President Clark Griffith of the Senators said tonight. "He's sort of my big boy," Griffith chuckled, plainly happy over having "Old Showboat" on his ball team once more.

Darkness Halts Tie Game Of Red Sox And Browns at 8-8

Boston, June 5 (AP)—Thirty five players saw action today as the Red Sox and St. Louis Browns slid to an 8-8 tie which was called at the end of 11 innings because of darkness. Play has been suspended for 61 minutes in the ninth inning because of heavy rain.

The Browns used four pitchers and the Sox six in the game which lasted three hours and 29 minutes, not counting the 61 minutes delay.

Junior Stephens celebrated his return to the starting St. Louis lineup by bashing a home run, his third of the year, and two doubles to drive in two runs.

Rudy York batted across four Boston runs as he hit a home run and a double.

PLAN FLAG DAY CEREMONY HERE

Elks Club Will Sponsor Parade, Service At City Pier

An impressive Flag Day ceremony, Friday evening, June 14 in which all civic, fraternal, and business organizations are asked to take part, is being arranged and sponsored by the Escanaba Elks club.

A parade made up of the city band, Escanaba high school band, veterans' organizations, members of various civic and fraternal groups, and floats entered by commercial establishments, will start at 7 p. m. at the junior high school. Commanders of the veterans' organizations have requested all veterans possible to march in the parade and wear their uniforms.

The marchers will go to the north shore park municipal pier where Attorney Robert Lemire, chairman of the Elks' committee, will act as master of ceremonies. Mayor Marvin Coon will speak briefly, selections by the band will be played, and Attorney Wheaton Strom will deliver the main address. Attorney Strom recently returned from lengthy service with the navy. As a highlight, John J. Bartella will present Elks membership cards to four totally disabled veterans.

Attorney Lemire said yesterday that "It would be appreciated if all civic, fraternal, and business groups would give this first post-war ceremony their full support by participating in the parade, having their members march, entering a float, or an appropriate substitute. This is a grand opportunity for each organization to show its true colors... to give Old Glory all the honor it is possible to bestow upon her and to display a feeling of reverence for those who paid the supreme sacrifice so that our flag might wave over the kind of land and government under which we wish to live."

Election School For Clerks Here On Friday Night

Township clerks and clerks of election boards in Escanaba and Gladstone Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in the court house will attend a pre-primary election school of instruction called by County Clerk J. Theodore Ohlen.

Supplies for the primary election June 18 are soon to be distributed by the county clerk, whose office yesterday reported that sets of 12,000 ballots have been printed for the cities and townships. Voters will be presented with three ballots in the "secret" primary—one ballot containing the Republican ticket, another the Democratic ticket, and a third the non-partisan.

At the primary the voters will place in nomination candidates for state and county offices, whose names will appear on the ballot at the fall election Nov. 5.

City Civil Service Exam Is Postponed Until Friday Night

The civil service examination for applicants for a position as patrolman on the city police force which was to have been held Tuesday night will be held instead this Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the city hall.

Sets of examinations, which are provided by the Michigan Municipal League in Ann Arbor, failed to arrive in time for the tests to be held Tuesday night, City Manager A. V. Aronson said.

The New Bear Wheel Aligner

All you do is drive your car across the aligner platform it comes in contact with sensitive blade that moves in a lateral direction. If the wheel is out of alignment and thus has a side drag or scuff action, it will move the blade in the direction of the scuff.

The amount of lateral movement of the blade is instantly recorded on the dial. You can see for yourself whether wheels need aligning. Likewise, should wheel alignment be necessary, you can check the completed job and be sure that it is correct.
